Fab Sale: 35% Off of the Ritmo Music Player!

Courtesy Nuvo Group

Playing tunes for yourself and your unborn child can be a sweet and relaxing pre-birth bonding experience. And thanks to Nuvo Group's Ritmo Music Player ($130), it can also be comfortable. The lightweight (and supportive!) band features four mini speakers that hug the belly in just the right places to provide optimal surround sound for developing ears.

Not only is a great gift for mom-to-be music lovers, but it's a fun way for dads to get close to baby before he's born too.

No Doubt rocker Tony Kanal played his own songs, as well as, some from his favorite artists (Bob Marley, The Clash, Prince) to daughter Coco Reese while she was still in the womb. Other celeb fans includes Ian Ziering, Chris Daughtry, Bree Turner, Alana de la Garza, Bethenny Frankel and Kate Dillon.

In honor of the Ritmo turning one, the company would like to offer our readers an exclusive discount. Until Feb. 28, the state-of-the-art music player will be $85 plus free shipping when you enter code RITMO85 at checkout.
