Before you can use your Ritmo™ Pregnancy Sound System for the first time, you must charge your Ritmo™ Audio Controller for 12-14 hours. Failure to do so will compromise the integrity of the lithium polymer battery encased inside the Ritmo™ Audio Controller.

When first charging your Ritmo™ Audio Controller, the light will disappear after a few minutes. This is normal and DOES NOT mean your Ritmo™ Audio Controller is fully charged. You must continue to charge for 12-14 hours prior to first use.

• NB: Upon initial use, fully discharge the battery before recharging the second time.

Quick Set Up

For your convenience, Ritmo™ Pregnancy comes pre-assembled. Please read the instructions below carefully before use.

1. Unpack the Ritmo™ Pregnancy Kit and ensure that all the components are complete and free from damage.

2. Prior to initial use, switch off the Ritmo™ Audio Controller, and charge the Ritmo™ Audio Controller for 12-14 hours. The light may turn off, but this does not mean your unit is ready to use. You still need to charge it for 12-14 hours prior to the first use.

3. Make sure the Ritmo™ Audio Controller is set to "PRE" (prenatal) mode and place the Ritmo™ Audio Controller into the right pocket of the Ritmo™ pregnancy belt. (1)

4. Connect your MP3 player or similar device to the Ritmo™ Audio Controller and place the player into the left pocket, for a hands-free listening experience. (2)

5. If you wish to listen along with your baby, plug your earphones directly into the Ritmo™ Audio Controller.

6. To correctly position the Ritmo™ Belt, place it on your abdomen with the speakers in front, and the imprinted Ritmo™ logo on the right hand side and facing away from your body.

7. Make sure the protective casings of the Speakers (the solid cover) are facing outwards.

8. Fasten the Ritmo™ Belt behind your back using Velcro® fastener. Tighten the Ritmo™ Belt as snugly as comfortable to deliver optimum sound quality to the womb.

9. If you need some extra room, attach the Belt Extender to the back of the belt.

10. Press the On/Off button on the Ritmo™ Audio Controller to turn your Ritmo on (it's a green light) and enjoy!
